Germany May Declare War
London, July 3.—[Special Cablegram]—It is Germany declares war on China, a contingency the dispatch from Berlin this morning indicate probable, once the Peking government's ultimatum is established, it is regarded here as reasonably certain that Asia, Japan, and France will follow it without delay.

England, it is believed is likely to hold off, for the present, while the United States is expected to move unless literally dried into the struggle.

In any event, China's ure was never darker. Even if the pps agree not to use any more force in absolutely necessary to protect thown subjects, it begins to look as if thbness them selves would bring about disintegration of their empire throu internecine war.

Clamorous for Vengeance
The entire press of many is discussing the action that government will take to punish Chfor the assassination of Baron von Kettele. A majority of the newspaper declare that the responsibility of thbness government is evident, and y clamor for vengeance. They dec that Germany must abandon her ramping the powers unless she exacts satisfaction.

The Tagblatt raise question of detaining the Chinesemister here as a hostage. The militarty is urging the immediate dispatch 10,000 troops to China. If EmpeWilliam decides to declare that a st of war exists, which he can do acting to his constitutional right, thestag must be convoked to vote the necessary credits.

Foreigners Dead In Peking.
In the meanwhile troops continue to harass thbness besieged in the compound of British Legation in Peking, and feared that unless relief is speeded all will meet the fate of the Gin minister. They are short of both food and ammunition.

troops on Chinese soil, and will send more. Advices from Yokohama state that Japan is also preparing to send 30,000 additional men.

If the Americans, the British, the other Europeans now in Peking are facing death—one general massacre at the hands of the anti-foreign Chinese—the loss of life will not only be terrible, but will remove some of the best known men in the world of diplomacy and in far Eastern circles.

Allies Not Advancing.

London, July 3, 3:30 a. m.—The allies are not advancing for the relief of Peking. This announcement to the house of commons by William St. John Broderick, Under Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs, was received with exclamations of astonishment and dismay.

Sir Elles Ashmead Bartlett inquired if any information had been received from the legations at Peking, or as to the composition and command of the relieving force and its present position. Mr. Broderick read the dispatches received today and said the total allied force available is now about 13,000 as troops have been rapidly arriving, adding:

"We do not yet know what arrangements have been made locally, regarding the command of the expedition, but it has not yet been thought possible to attempt a further advance."

Texarkana, Ark., July 3.—Eight prisoners made a desperate effort to escape from jail at Magnolia, Ark., and in a fight to prevent the escape Sheriff John Dawson was shot and seriously wounded. Sheriff Dawson opened the jail door to lock the prisoners in their cells for the night, when the men attacked him. Dawson shot and fatally wounded Lyde McDuffy, colored, and Ed Warren. Will Newton wrenched away the sheriff's pistol and shot the officer. Six prisoners then fled into the street. Armed citizens were encountered and Sam Garrett, a citizen, shot Lafayette Jones, and then all the prisoners were recaptured with the captured except Newton.

IRA B. BRADFORD HAS WITHDRAWN

Eau Claire Man No Longer a Candidate For Republican Nomination.

IS DUE TO SITUATION

Confirms the Report of His Intention In a Telegram Over His Own Signature.

WHITEHEAD STILL IN THE RACE

Milwaukee, July 3.—Ira B. Bradford is no longer a candidate for the republican nomination for governor.

The Eau Claire man has withdrawn from the race saying: "Conditions have come to my knowledge under which in justice to my friends whose efforts in my behalf I fully appreciate, I cannot longer remain a candidate for the governorship and I therefore withdraw."

Later Mr. Bradford confirmed this statement in a telegram to The Milwaukee Sentinel over his own signature. The talk has been that Senator Whitehead, of Janesville, would also withdraw, but the Senator denies that such is his intention.

Conference at Madison

Senator Whitehead, Editor Cham Ingersoll of Beloit, Judge Philo Orton and Internal Revenue Collector James G. Monahan of Darlington conferred with Senator John C. Spooner for several hours yesterday on Mr. Whitehead's prospects. The conference was held at Senator Spooner's house. Later the visitors called on Gov. Scofield at the capitol.

Senator Spooner said that the call of Messrs. Whitehead, Ingersoll, Orton and Monahan was not made by appointment. These men were in the city, he said, and had merely called to discuss a number of subjects in which they were interested. "If Senator Whitehead has any statements to make," said Senator Spooner, "they naturally should come from him."

AIRSHIP FLIES IN FACE OF THE WIND

Problem of Aerial Navigation Finally Solved by Count Von Zeppelin of Germany.

Berlin, July 3.—Aerial navigation is no longer a problem of the future, as it was clearly proven yesterday by a practical demonstration that space may be traveled even in the face of a wind.

The test was made at lake Constance and was in every way successful. The great airship constructed at a cost of $250,000 under the direction of Count von Zeppelin was sent in the air to a height of half a mile and while at that altitude was maneuvered as easily as though it had been a ship of the water.

The airship obeyed the rudder and propellers completely. It ran with or against the wind with equal success and was made to cut circles in the air at the will of the operator.

The machine traveled thirty-five miles from the starting point and landed in the water near Immerstadt. A slight miscalculation was made and the craft was sent to the water rather than into a fruit orchard where it would have been injured.

Count von Zeppelin, the inventor, and four companions made the ascension. All are highly elated over the success of the test and are confident that in the near future aerial navigation can be put to practical ends.

The airship tested is really a number of balloons joined together. These balloons support the two carriages in which the operators ride and from which the mechanism is worked.

BOW TO THE WILL OF WM. J. BRYAN

Platform to Declare For Silver At the Ratio of 16 to 1.

HILL WILL NOT FIGHT

Shively and the New York Senator Out of the Vice Presidential Race.

TOWNE'S BOOM IS GROWING

Kansas City, Mo., July 3.—"We hereby reaffirm the Chicago platform in whole and in part and in letter and in spirit, and unreservedly declare in the free and unlimited coinage of silver at the lawful ratio of 16 to 1 without the consent of any other nation."

This is the silver plank of the platform, written by Mr. Bryan himself, which is to be adopted by the democratic national convention on July 4. Mayor McGuire of Syracuse, N. Y., brought a copy of the widely discussed instrument to Kansas City late last night, and with the knowledge and consent of the Nebraskan, scattered copies broadcast through the hotels.

Mr. Bryan has won. The convention will yield to his judgment. Whether it will do so gracefully or whether it will retain mental reservations as to the judgment of the course pursued by the Nebraskan remains to be developed. As matters stand in the convention city today there is no rejoicing over the prospect. The party leaders almost without exception, while they are playing the parts of soldiers, regret that Mr. Bryan could not see his way clear to yield to their judgment.

Leaders Accept the Dictum.

Senator Jones, chairman of the national committee, ex-Governor Stone of Missouri, Thomas Gahan of Illinois, Cato Sells of Iowa, Chairman Love of the Kansas state committee, Richard Croker and nearly everybody else is bowing to the dictum of the man in Lincoln.

"We might as well be satisfied, they say, 'Perhaps it is all for the best.' Mr. Hill is refusing to talk about his visit to Mr. Bryan, or to indicate what his own course at the convention will be. His friends and supporters have thrown up their hands, however, and are saying that Mr. Hill will also abandon the fight. Mr. Bryan sent messages to nearly all the democratic leaders this morning by R. L. Metcalf of Omaha, in which he made his attitude very clear.

Insists Upon Three Things.

"Colonel Bryan will not be a candidate for president on a platform which does not specifically declare for the free coinage of silver at the ratio of sixteen to one, said Mr. Metcalf in stating Mr. Bryan's position. Then he would add: 'Mr. Bryan insists upon three things—first, that the money plank contain the words 'free and unlimited coinage of silver'; second, that it contain the words 'without the aid or consent of any other nation'; third, that it contain the words '16 to 1.' If these words are not on the platform Mr. Bryan will not run for president."

Threatened to Withdraw.

Mr. Metcalf's statements were so clear and unequivocal that Senator Jones doubted his right to speak for Mr. Bryan. Later in the day another messenger from Lincoln, equally prominent and known to be a veracious gentleman, made this remarkable statement:

"If the committee on resolutions should turn silver down there will be a minority report. Mr. Bryan will come to Kansas City, take the floor against majority report, defeat it, and then leave the convention to select another candidate for president."

The sum total of all the messages from Bryan was so overwhelmingly in favor of 16 to 1, that the leaders surrendered one after another and said that they would do as he desired.

Interest in Vice Presidency.

The day started off with something approaching a boom for Congressman B. F. Shively of Indiana for the nomination for vice president. Mr. Shively, himself, however, stopped the talk in his favor a little after noon and then the cry went up in favor of ex-Congressman Towne of Minnesota as a man for the second place on the ticket.

The argument made in favor of Towne which had the most effect was that he was Wm. J. Bryan's personal choice for the position. Eastern democrats and those from the Central states refused, however to join in the Towne cry saying he was a populist and they wanted a democratic nominee.

For a New York Candidate

This again brought out talk of going to New York for a candidate, and the names of David B. Hill and Elliot F. Danforth of that state were again canvassed. In addition, a New York candidate was brought out in the person of Judge Parker, and there was also mention made of Judge Van Wyck.

Neither was Carter Harrison of Chicago forgotten in the gossip, although up to date the few Illinoisans have rather discouraged the use of his name under the plea that Mayor Harrison did not want the honor. An intimation also came from Lincoln that perhaps Mayor Harrison would not exactly suit Mr. Bryan.

FILIPINO GENERAL GIVES UP.

Aquino Surrenders to the Macabebes Scouts—Ricarte Caught.

Washington, D. C., July 3.—Three cable messages were received by the adjutant general from Gen. MacArthur at Manila. The first read: "Gen. Aquino, prominent leader of insurgent forces, surrendered unconditionally to First Lieut. John J. O'Connell with the Macabebes scouts, June 29, with sixty-four rifles and ammunition. Gen. Ricarte, leader of the threatened uprising in Manila during this year, recently very active, was captured July 1 by native police between Paco and Stana."

In another message Gen. MacArthur said the remains of Lieut. Paul Draper, Twenty-second infantry, were recovered June 30 and were buried at San Isidoro, Luzon. Lieut. Draper was killed several days ago during an engagement in northern Luzon. The third message said the transport Warren sailed from Manila with a battalion of the Twenty-third United States infantry for San Francisco. The men in this battalion have nearly completed their terms of enlistment or are incapacitated for further service.

Out of nine members of the Winkler family, but four were saved. Mrs. Winkler was badly burned.

The building was a frame structure, three stories high and the flames burned so rapidly that the firemen could do little, either to extinguish the fire or save lives.

The bodies of three more of the Winkler family have been found. Firemen report that four other bodies have been located.

STEPHENSON IS FOR STEBBINS

Makes Clear His Preference Because of a Twisted Interview in a Democratic Paper.

Marquette, Wis., July 3.—Isaac Stephenson yesterday made the following announcement concerning his preference for the governorship:

"I wish to absolutely and unqualifiedly deny the inference drawn from an interview in Saturday's Milwaukee Journal that I am in favor of LaFollette for governor. I am for Stebbins first and last and I have no second choice. The article places me in a false light before the public, and I hope this denial will be given equal prominence."

OREGON IS FLOATED

It is Now Hoped That She Will Reach Port Arthur, Japan, in Safety.

MAYOR ROSE KNOCKED OUT

Free Silver Men Preferred Gov. Thomas of Colorado for Chairman.

THOMAS 24; ROSE 22

The Sixteen to One Specific Plank Shouters Are Joyous Over this Result.

ADMIT THE CLARK DELEGATION

Kansas City, July 3.—[Special Telegram]—The bitter fight for the temporary chairmanship of the convention which was between Governor Thomas of Colorado, and Mayor Rose of Milwaukee, ended shortly before noon in a victory for Thomas. The vote of the committee was: Thomas, 24; Rose, 22.

This is a great victory for the radical silver wing and the sixteen to one specific plank shouters are joyous.

It is expected that Thomas' speech opening the convention will be an eloquent plea for silver. Thomas is for Towne for vice president. He was placed in nomination by committeeman Wither of Colorado, Congressman Clayton of Delaware, nominated Rose.

G. A. Walsh of Iowa, secretary of the National committee, was chosen temporary secretary.

The first report was on Montana. It was unanimously the decision to seat the Clark delegation. None of the Daly claims were regarded.

The Jacobs-Snipes case in Oklahoma, was decided in favor of the Jacobs faction.

The Markham-Wolverton fight from Indian Territory was decided in favor of the Markham people.

Bryan With a Hurrah.

The program is being arranged by the executive committee of the national committee to have Bryan nominated with a grand hurrah tomorrow, immediately after the reading of the declaration of independence. He is then to be notified by telegraph of his nomination and asked to come and make a speech of acceptance, which may be Thursday night.

Delegates from the South and West called on Croker this morning to urge him to use his influence to prevent the adoption of a separate 16 to 1 plank. Croker told them that a reaffirmation of the Chicago platform means the same thing. He advised that the orators dwell on trusts and imperialism.

Clark Delegation Admitted

Kansas City, July 3.—[Special Telegram]—The bitter contest between the Clark and Daly factions of Montana occupied the attention of a subcommittee of the national democratic executive committee today. Shortly after noon the committee decided unanimously upon the evidence to admit the Clark delegation. It is understood that Clark has agreed to subscribe $1,000,000 to the democratic campaign fund.

Hill a Conspicuous Figure

Hill is the most conspicuous figure here. He recognizes Bryan's power, but believes that after eight years of radicalism and two defeats for Bryan, it will bring things to a focus, where in four years he himself will stand a show for president.

The Ohio delegation this afternoon after a stormy session elected John R. McLean national committeeman.

The New York delegation caucus decided to present Lewis Nixon, the great naval constructor, as their candidate for vice president.

Smoke on a Long Round Trip.

During the volcanic eruption in the Hawaiian islands last summer the smoke rose to a height of between five and six miles and then drifted away to the northeast. At a distance of 600 miles from Hawaii it settled upon the surface of the sea and was then carried back by the northeast wind to its place of origin, where it arrived a fortnight after its original departure and covered the entire group of islands with its heavy pall.

CAN'T KEEP IT UP

Can't Deceive Janesville People Very Long—They Learn Quickly.

It is sometimes an easy matter to fool the public, but you can't keep it up very long. They are sure to find you out; and every time a man is fooled another skeptic is made. We are naturally skeptical when reading a published statement given by some stranger residing in a far-away place but the circumstances are entirely different when home endorsement is presented. The testimony of local citizens renders deceit impossible. It is so easy for you to investigate. Read this case:

Mr. Samuel Griffin, of 203 Locust St. journeyman carter, says: "I had a severe attack of la grippe and as a result weakness of the kidneys set in. Thesecretions from those organs were greatly disordered, annoyed me much at night and I seemed to have limited control of them. After finishing the treatment my kidneys were so strengthened that I could sleep all night without being disturbed. I am better now than I have been for years, and give all credit to Doan's Kidney Pills for bringing about this result."

Indian Rising Is Unlikely.

Governor Lind of Minnesota received a telegram from Consul Agent Frisbee at Rat Portage, Ont., saying that the situation among the Indians along Rainy river is improving. This was the only news received by the state officials.

Officers at United States army headquarters are inclined to make light of the reports of a threatened uprising and declare that there is not the slightest danger of an outbreak.

Strike Sympathizers Shot.

At St. Louis, Mo., two North End strike sympathizers were shot by a citizen, one fatally and the other seriously. Theodore D. Waters of No. 909 Salisbury street, secretary of the Hafner-Lothman Manufacturing company, is the man who did the shooting, and his victims were Julius Kulage of No. 1430 Mallinckrodt street, aged 30, shot in the right breast, fatally, and Alexander Stoffreger of No. 3600 North Broadway, aged 18, shot in the hip, seriously.

Both May Issue Bonds.

The supreme court in the Indianapolis school bond case, decided by a vote of 3 to 2 that in Indiana the civil city and the school city are separate corporations, and that each may incur indebtedness up to 2 per cent of the assessed value of property in its confines. The validity of millions of dollars in bonds hinged on the decision. Had the court held an opposite view, a vast amount of bonds would have been worthless, as the constitution specifies that such bonds in excess of the 2 per cent limit are void.

JOHN M. WHITEHEAD FOR GOVERNOR.

Racine Journal.—In choosing a candidate for governor people are determined in their choice by several methods. In selecting a candidate to vote for, people discriminate according as their prejudices are called in question, either as to politics or otherwise. It is obvious then that a candidate should not possess any more disadvantages than at least those that attain to the most fortunate of mortals as to disposition, command of temper and good qualities generally. Of the candidates in the field there is one who from all points of view presents the most considerable number of desirable qualifications. This particular candidate is Hon. John M. Whitehead of Janesville. He has never antagonized interests, not that in his duties as senator or representative he has ever failed to work for the highest interests of the people as witness his labors on the tax problem, but that in his career he has always worked fair, has given others the same rights he claims for himself, and in no wise has otherwise than ever obeyed the golden rule.

His methods in politics have been clean, his course has been almost prudently conservative, to speak of his modesty in that sense, and in point of commanding character, of an intelligent, broad-gauge view of public duties and public life, he is an ideal candidate. He is no factionist, he is not stirring up strife, enviousness, ill feeling, and neither is he proclaiming between the lines that he is the bearer of a new dispensation, and duly commissioned by grace, to put in force a new departure in the political world and efface from the public view the familiar forms now in public life, that have honored our great state. He is the bearer of no new departure that will degrade honored names and substitute those filled with ambition's vain rage. He is not in the field to pull down, but to build up. He has no wish to concern himself in the least with that which concerns the people best themselves. He is not to unmake or make. He is just a plain, christian gentleman, who, if chosen as governor, will truly serve the people of Wisconsin.

With John M. Whitehead as the standard bearer the Wisconsin Republicans will have a candidate who can worthily fill every honorable request made upon him. He has no machine to build up, and has never been engaged in the business of creating a reputation for statesmanship on flutulent epistles and alleged reforms. He has no proclamations to issue as regarding what he may do or may not do with such republicans as may prefer some one else. He in no wise holds himself to be the whole republican party and of such importance as bulletins from time to time are necessary to keep the citizens informed as to his latest intentions.

The logical candidate for governor is John M. Whitehead of Janesville, the candidate of the First Congressional district with 112 votes in the convention and giving as large a republican majority as any other district in the state. The district will hold to Mr. Whitehead and give him its solid support. If the district ever expects to wield in state conventions the influence it is justly entitled to by virtue of its importance, its representative men within the district and its geographical importance, it must act together, and that it will certainly do this time admits of no question.

It will give John M. Whitehead its 112 votes.

As the Racine Journal says, "Senator Whitehead is not a factionist, and is not stirring up strife, enviousness or ill feeling." He is going on the even tenor of his way, and making new friends every day. His chances for success are excellent, and if the First District wants to name the next governor, it now has the opportunity.

The attention of the contractionists who will gather at Kansas City tomorrow is called to the fact that firecrackers are expansionists, and should therefore be tabooed by all good Bryanocrats.

There is only one best way to do things, and that is the right way. This applies as much to the system of paying for street work as it does to the method of doing it.

Rhode Island has two capitals, Providence and Newport, but it is proposed to abolish one, retaining Newport. Is this not "flying in the face of Providence?"

The Man Who was Running the Oregon also attracts some attention these days.

Both Cantons are now the center of news—Canton, O., and Canton, China.

Be good to the giant firecracker, or it may turn on you.

And tomorrow is the g—s t—h.

It has already begun.

THE VALUE OF A COW.

Worth Ten Dollars More Now Than Under Free Trade.

The American cow has been feeling the effect of the good times and has come in for a share of the prosperity that now exists in every corner of our country. Note the following figures of the total value of all cows in the United States and the average value of each, as shown by the department of agriculture:

	Total value.	Per head.
Jan. 1, 1891.....	$305,508,661	$21.77
Jan. 1, 1895.....	362,001,729	21.97
Jan. 1, 1896.....	363,055,546	22.55
Jan. 1, 1897.....	369,239,393	23.10
Jan. 1, 1898.....	431,613,320	27.45
Jan. 1, 1899.....	474,233,325	29.00
Jan. 1, 1900.....	514,312,106	31.60

Cows on the American farm were worth only from $21.77 to $23.10 each under the Democratic administration of President Cleveland. Less milk was bought when our factories were closed. But busy factories mean money to spend and more milk for the family; so the farmers' cows are worth more under the protection of the Dingley tariff, which gives the home market to the home worker. A difference of $10 in the value of each cow, between free trade and protection times, is an "object lesson" for the farmer.—Norwich (Conn.) Bulletin.

Where Good Democrats Go.

There is now only one firm, consistent gold Democratic senator—Mr. Caffery of Louisiana—and very soon the Democratic party in the senate will be absolutely unanimous for free silver, for Senator Caffery's term expires on March 3 next, and it is already on the slate that he is to be displaced by Governor Foster, a Bryan Democrat. The same process of merciless proscription is now going on which a few years ago drove lifelong protectionist Democrats like the Hon. T. Jefferson Coolidge out of the Democratic party into the Republican. When the Democracy has rid itself of all its members who believe in the gold standard and the protective tariff, there will be very little left to commend it to the business interests of America.—Boston Journal.

To Help England.

If the filing of the reports in favor of the shipping bill during the session of congress just closed has accomplished nothing else, it has at least buried for all time the so called "free ship" proposition, which, on examination, is found to be a measure for the promotion of British shipbuilding.

In a metal case of small size "Oxydonor" is enclosed. When you retire at night you fasten to your ankle a small attachment that is connected to the "Oxydonor" case by a cord. While you sleep Oxydonor causes the body to drink in the oxygen of the air. Thus it causes disease to be transformed into health and vigor of life. Sounds strange, but fifty local testimonials will prove all and more than we claim for this little wonder. Plenty of local references. No matter what the disease is. ## GREAT CROWD IS EXPECTED

Tomorrow is the Fourth of July, and in anticipation of this fact, the policemen and watchmen of Janesville have been warned to take special precautions to prevent fires. Already the celebration has commenced. Small boys in all parts of the city are causing the police and others much trouble by placing fire crackers and explosives on street car tracks and sidewalks and throwing them in the alleys and the rear of buildings.

Chief Hogan has sent out a special warning and good citizens are expected to co-operate with the police department in keeping order and preventing fires, which might create great destruction throughout the city.

The Fourth promises to be fair and such a crowd is expected in Janesville from the surrounding country as has never been here before on a similar occasion. The program of entertainments offered is magnificent in every respect. It will be no stale, flat, profitless, old-fashioned exhibition, but a live, modern, up-to-date celebration.

Besides the morning and afternoon parades and evening carnival with masks and confetti will tap the climax of the amusements. Great care has been taken by the committees in charge of the parade and they promise an exhibition that will be worth seeing. The features will be original embracing comical and patriotic designs. A large number of men and women, boys and girls will participate and the arrangements for these spectacular exhibitions have been under way for weeks. Every plan has been attended to and the managers expect to present an ensemble that will be perfect in every detail. Much is expected from the parade and they promise to please and furnish great amusement.

The formal exercises in the Court house park, including music, reading the declaration of independence and an address promise to be a notable feature and will no doubt draw a large crowd. The vaudeville performances at various points on the streets during the afternoon will consist of first class performers, imported from Chicago and they will no doubt be a rich treat to the crowds.

The program in detail is as follows:

MORNING.
4:00. National Salute, 21 Guns.
5:30. More Salutes.
6:30. Breakfast.
8:30. Go Down Town.
9:00. Formation of Parade on Center Ave.
10:30. Parade Starts.
The line of march will be through the business streets, the parade to be in charge of the Marshal of the Day and aides.
The parade will form on Academy street, march east, on West Milwaukee street to River street; south on River street to Pleasant, east on Pleasant to Park street; south on Park to South Second street; east on South Second to Main street; north on Main to Milwaukee; east on Milwaukee to Bluff; north on Bluff to Prospect avenue; west on Prospect avenue to Main; south on Main to Milwaukee; west on Milwaukee to Corn Exchange square where the parade will disband.
The military companies and other organizations will then escort the speakers to the Court House park, where the patriotic exercises of which W. L. Clemens has charge, will be held, the following being the program:
Music.....Imperial Band
Address.....Janet E. Taylor
Mayor Victor P. Richardson, Pres. of the Day
Prayer.....Rev. W. A. Goebel
Address.....Rev. Robert C. Denison
Reading of Declaration of Independence
3:45. Base ball game at Athletic Park.
Music.....Imperial Band
12:00. All Eat.

AFTERNOON
1:00. Grand Vaudeville Street Entertainment to be continued throughout the afternoon and evening on elevated stages erected in different portions of the business section. These are all artists furnished by the Empire Theatrical Exchange of Chicago.
The following people will positively appear at the stands erected in the streets:
Kid Able and Young Garfield—Boxers.
Three Constantine Sisters—Singers and acrobatic dancers.
Brazil Brothers—Comedy acrobats.
George P. Demoneo—Contortionist.
Van Brothers—Character comedians.
The DeLoras—Aerial artists.
The street shows will be conducted all the afternoon and evening except when the parades are in progress.
3:00. Nonesuch Brothers' famous circus parade, bigger, brighter and better than ever before.
The line of march of Nonesuch Brothers' parade is as follows: Milwaukee to Main, south on Main to Court, west on Court to River, north on River to Milwaukee, Milwaukee to Academy, Academy to Wall, Wall to Jackson, Jackson to Milwaukee, Milwaukee to Bluff, Bluff to Prospect Ave., Prospect Ave. to Bluff, Bluff to disband.
3:45. Base ball game at Athletic Park. Chicago West Ends vs. Janesville. All professionals.

EVENING
8:00. Grand Mask Street Carnival, with thousand flaming Roman candles and unlimited colored lights. Music by bands and professional entertainers.
All societies and organizations will mask and come out in the parade. There will be from 100 to 1,000 maskers in line to escort Rex.
The parade will be on foot, no horses being allowed, for fear of accidents on account of the fireworks.
The parade will form on East Milwaukee street and will march west to Main street, north to the fire station, counter march to the park, counter march to Milwaukee street, west to Academy street, north to railroad, counter march to Milwaukee street, east to bridge and disband.

In the evening at the Assembly Hall there will be a dancing party, under the auspices of the A. O. H. society.

Stand for the Exercises
The stand for the public exercises to be held in Court House park was put in place today.

The Janesville Water Company have erected a handsome drinking fountain just south of their office on Main street. This will be a great convenience to the crowds that will gather here on the Fourth and is a praiseworthy act on the part of the water company.

Notice to G. A. R. Men.
All members of W. H. Sargent Post No. 20 G. A. R. and all old veterans are requested to assemble at the Post hall at 9:30 o'clock tomorrow morning, to take part in the Fourth of July parade.

Work on Decoration
The decorating committee is hard at work getting ready for the 4th. Wires have already been strung on the telegraph and telephone poles; the entire length of Milwaukee street and tomorrow morning will see them gay with streamers.

Madame Thierbach, the costumer from Milwaukee, is in the city at the Myers. She has with her a large number of costumes for the evening carnival. All those desiring costumes should call on her at the Myers.

Ald. Kothmann introduced an order calling for a new sidewalk on lot 4, block 10, Palmer & Sutherland's add, on Holmes street.

Mayor Richardson stated he had something to say to the council in regard to the lawless manner in which streets were being repaired, in utter disregard to the rules of the council and thought it about time to call a halt. He was very sorry to have to bring it out in such a manner, but could see no other way to get out of it, and in justice to property owners that had to pay for repairs and improvement on the streets adjoining their property, he would read the following communication to the council.

Advice From the Mayor.
My attention was directed yesterday to certain work being done on Holmes street in the Fourth ward, under the direction of the street commissioner. I visited the place this morning and found there such a condition of affairs, that I thought best in this public manner to bring the matter to your attention. Without authority of any kind from this council, under whose orders he should work, the street commissioner has macadamized a portion of the street extending from Cherry street one block east. He has done this under the excuse of repairing the street.

Less than a year ago this council by a unanimous vote passed a resolution defining the work that should be done under the head of repairs. And our present street commissioner, who was then in office, was served with a copy of this resolution and given to fully understand its purport.

More than this, this council further pledged itself to the carrying out of a policy by which all such permanent improvements as the street commissioner has made on Holmes street should be charged to the abutting property and not paid for from either ward or general funds. In the very face of these various orders and pledges, the street commissioner has violated the law and ordinances of this city, and put those members of the council, who were honest in their promises to the public, in a position where they can be accused of violating their pledges and disregarding the duty that they have sworn to perform.

Such a misappropriation of public funds as this is dishonouring and leads the public to believe that their representatives in the city government are unworthy their confidence.

I have been further informed that similar work to that done on Holmes street is contemplated in the Second ward near the intersection of Prospect and Fourth avenue. This would be fully as illegal.

Permanent improvements no better and more expensive than those made on Holmes street are now under way on several streets in this city, and these improvements are to be paid for by the abutting property owners and common fairness requires that all property holders should be treated alike.

I very much regret the necessity that compelled me to call your attention to this matter in so public a manner, but as a member of this council I propose to do what I can to carry out the pledges that we have made to the citizens whom we represent. And as this is the second attempt that has been made to misappropriate funds in this way, I can see no surer way of stopping it, than by making it public.

Caused a Warm Discussion
The Mayor's remarks caused a warm discussion. Ald. McLean said the street commissioner was acting under orders when the street in question was being repaired. The Mayor wished to know who gave the orders and Ald. McLean said that was for the street commissioner to answer. Ald. Kothmann claimed that the street was repaired under an order introduced into the council last fall, and it was understood that the street was to be repaired with stone. When asked who understood it, he said, "We all did." Ald. McLean wanted to know if the order called for stone, and Ald. Kothmann replied that he did not know.

Ald. Kothmann said this was not the first time that kind of repairing had been done and that it was done now anyway. Mayor Richardson replied that this was the first time this kind of repairing had been done since the Fourth Avenue experience and that it was unjust and should be protested against.

On motion the council adjourned.

SOME DAMAGE BY YESTERDAY'S STORM

Buildings and Shade, Trees Injured in Various Parts of the City—Some of the Details.

The wind that preceded the storm yesterday afternoon did considerable damage to buildings and shade trees in different parts of the city. A chimney was blown down on the rear of St. Patrick's church and broke in the roof of the chapel below. The flying bricks also broke a number of panes of glass in the windows of the convent. The roof of the convent was also damaged by having a large portion of the west wing swept bare of shingles.

A chimney on the home of Charles McFadyen on Cherry street was blown down as was also the tent of the merry-go-round near the Y. M. C. A. building.

A large oak tree in the yard of C. J. Mahoney's house, 160 Locust street, was blown down and struck the corner of the house doing some damage.

On Park street in the Third ward a large tree was uprooted, falling across the street, tearing up the sidewalk in its fall.

It was a fierce wind and did considerable damage in a short space of time. It is fortunate it was any harder or Janesville might today be the scene of a terrible disaster.

RATIO IN PLAIN FIGURES.

Bryan Stands Firm in His Demands for 16 to 1.

THE VICE PRESIDENTIAL BOOMS

Elliot Danforth of New York Appears to Be the Leader for Second Place on the Ticket—Townes Deems Also Healthy—Shively Withdraws.

Kansas City, July 3.—Bryan stands firm in his demands for a "16 to 1" plank in the platform on the financial question and the ratio will be expressed in plain figures. It will be in so many words a repetition of the Chicago platform.

Effect of Shively's Refusal. Mr. Shively withdrew from the race at a meeting of the Indiana delegation in the Coates house. The Indiana delegation had expressed themselves as anxious to nominate him if it were possible, but they did not seem eager to boom an unwilling candidate. When Mr. Shively told them that for personal reasons he could not and would not be a candidate, asking them to use every effort to keep his name from the convention, they accepted his words in good faith. They shelved the boom and started over to tell New York they were with any candidate they would agree upon.

Texas for Harrison. It was reported here that Texas had declared for Carter H. Harrison for vice president, but as the Lone Star state delegation had not arrived the report could not be verified. Illinois delegates continue to assert that the Chicago mayor could be nominated in a walk if he would only declare his candidacy, but they do not believe he would allow his name to be presented to the convention.

Sulzer Boom Waning. The Sulzer boom is waning. The trouble has been that delegates have refused to consider the aspirant from New York seriously. Sulzer lithographs hang on many walls in this city, and some of the newsboys wear a Bryan-Sulzer badge.

Danforth's Boom. Elliot Danforth of New York appears to lead all others just now in the race for the vice presidential nomination.

W. J. BRYAN.

nation. The New York man was at the outset a strong candidate last night, but his boom has grown to great proportions. When B. F. Shively of Indiana asked the delegates of his state as a personal favor not to allow his name to be presented for the nomination the states that were looking toward Indiana for their candidate turned their eyes further eastward to New York. Then David B. Hill returned from Lincoln, where he had been to see William J. Bryan. Mr. Hill took personal charge of the Danforth boom and under his skillful care it grew and flourished until nearly all the delegates are talking Danforth and New York.

Candidacy of Townes. Next to that of Danforth, the candidacy of Charles A. Townes, the Minnesota silver republican, seems to be the most healthy. Town himself, before he left to fill a lecture engagement at Topeka, Kas., said that his candidacy never looked better, and that his chances were of the best, provided no combination were made against him.

New National Committee. The following members of the national committee have so far been chosen:

Arkansas, James P. Clark; Connecticut, Homer S. Cummings; Florida, George H. Ranch; Illinois, Thomas Gahan; Indiana, Thomas F. Taggart; Kentucky, Urey Woodson; Maine, Arthur Sewall; Nebraska, James C. Dahlman; Ohio, John R. McLean; Pennsylvania, J. M. Guffey; South Carolina, Benjamin R. Tillman; South Dakota, Morris R. Taylor; Texas, R. M. Johnston; Vermont, John H. Senter; Washington, William H. Dunphy; Wisconsin, Timothy E. Ryan; Alaska, L. T. Williams.

Temporary Chairmanship. The Democratic national committee met about noon and a decision was reached to have the various contests over seats heard by subcommittees and not by the committee as a whole.

A motion was made to temporarily seat the Clark delegation until the committee on credentials could take up the case, but was almost unanimously voted down. All contests were referred to subcommittees.

Until evening there has been no talk that the convention might possibly take the naming of temporary officers in its own hands. The opposition to arrived, is having some effect. Given he arrived, is having some effect, time enough Mr. Altgeld may succeed in defeating Milwaukee's chief executive. No one, however, has been mentioned as a probability in the event that the delegation should decide to overrule the action of the national committee and perfect the temporary organization Gov. Thomas circulated a report to the effect that he was Mr. Bryan's choice. It is understood that he brought a speech with him to Kansas City, the contents of which Mr. Bryan, presumably, knows all about.

D. J. Campan, the Michigan member, gave the committee a dinner in the evening at the Baltimore hotel.

THE 16 TO 1 MEN VIGOROUS.

Will Not Compromise on the Ratio Principle. Kansas City, Mo., July 3.—The revolt of the "plain people" who are all faithfully represented by numerous delegates already in Kansas City is increasing hourly for a definite 16 to 1 plank, virtually a repetition of the Chicago platform plank, in the platform of 1900. It is more than ever probable today there will be a tremendous clash in the convention if the conservatives carry their fight that far with the energy they now show.

Croker Is for 16 to 1. "I am for Bryan," declared Richard Croker of New York today, "and he wants a specific 16 to 1 silver plank in the platform. In my opinion the declaration for silver will be most explicit and emphatic and not by any means a mere reaffirmation of the platform of 1896."

"We must have a distinct silver plank. Why did not the Republicans repeal the act of 1873 if silver is not a good thing? They did not dare to and consequently we must keep on fighting for 16 to 1. The declaration in this regard should be the great feature of the platform and a thrilling battle cry throughout the campaign."

Reaffirmation Not Enough. One of the most noted leaders of the silver Republicans, Senator Pettigrew of South Dakota, said today in an interview for the Daily News that a simple reaffirmation of the Chicago platform would not be satisfactory. He virtually denounced any effort to dodge and flatly and vigorously declared for a distinct silver plank in the new platform.

"After the convention," said the senator, "the Democratic party would stand not on the Chicago platform, but on the Kansas City platform." J. M. Tomlinson of Alabama, chairman of the National Bimetallic league, says that a specific declaration for the independent coinage of gold and silver at 16 to 1 will be insisted on. "This sort of a plank is in harmony with Mr. Bryan's straightforward way of fighting and he knows no other way," said Mr. Tomlinson.

Revolt Against the East. Other southern Democrats spoke in the same vein in an equally positive way. The revolt of the plain people against any eastern or other influence making toward the suppression of the silver issue has held up, apparently, the candidacy of Mayor Rose of Milwaukee for the position of temporary chairman of the convention. The mayor said today that it was not certain he would preside and that the national committee probably would decide the question today.

GRAND RAPIDS HAS FLOOD.

Big Reservoir Bursts, Flooding Part of the City.

MANY HOMES ARE IN RUIN.

Dwellings of Working Men Are Swept from Foundations—Houses Filled with Sand and Furniture Broken to Pieces—Only One Person Seriously Hurt.

Grand Rapids, Mich., July 3.—The big reservoir of the city waterworks system in the northern part of the city burst and more than 100,000,000 gallons of water rushed down through the valley adjacent flooding an area peopled by about 9,000 persons. Many dwellings were washed away, others were washed away, and all those within a district of three blocks square were either wholly or partly filled with sand. Broken buildings, furniture and utensils and ruined effects of all kinds added to the hopeless aspect of the scene. Most of the buildings damaged were homes of workmen. The sand, which was dug out of the hillside between Livingston and Coit avenue and on Newberry street, is lodged in the houses, filling some rooms, and covering the floors of others. Not a house within the sweep of the flood escaped damage. The tracks of the Detroit, Grand Haven & Milwaukee railroad, a short distance north of the reservoir, were undermined and trains on that road were obliged to make a detour via other roads.

Reservoir Gave Way. The reservoir gave way at the gatehouse, near Livingston street, pouring down hill a stream thirty feet wide and ten feet deep. Several houses were swept from their foundations, carried away on the flood and crushed. Some streets were torn up to a depth of forty feet. The nearest approach to a fatality was in the case of the family of William Cooper, in Clancy street, four blocks away from the reservoir. His house was picked up on the crest of the flood and carried across the street as if it were a toy. The occupants were asleep at the time. All managed to escape, except Mrs. Cooper, aged 30 years, who was caught in the deluge and carried down the steep hill in Bradford street and lodged against a barn in an alley a block away. There she was buried by sand and exposed to the force of the rushing water and driftwood for half an hour before she was discovered and rescued, in a senseless condition. She was conveyed to a hospital in an ambulance. She is suffering greatly from the shock, but her injuries are not necessarily fatal. Mrs. Emma McIntyre, a widow, her brother, C. A. Hunt, and two children, barely got out of their house when it was swept down, rolled over, and carried two blocks away. Several other families had similar narrow escapes.

That more casualties did not occur is due to the presence of mind and prompt action of a morning newspaper-carrier boy, Bert Botsford, aged 16. While delivering his papers he was attracted by the rush of water from the break in the reservoir, and, realizing the danger to the people living in the valley below, he ran to the nearest houses in the path of the flood, yelling at the top of his voice and pounding on doors to awaken the occupants. Men were aroused and assisted in giving the alarm. A large number of people, however, did not get out of their homes until after they were struck by the flood. A railroad culvert was washed out and trains were delayed. A number of horses were swept along with barns, but came out of it safely. A rough estimate of the damage done is placed at $150,000, a greater part of which falls upon workmen who owned homes in the flooded district. Early witnesses of the flood say that the reservoir was pumped to overflowing, causing the bank to give way at the top. As soon as there was a break at the weakest spot the force of the great body of water washed out a great ragged gully. Streets were plowed up and water and gas mains laid bare in the course of the deluge.

Beauty at the Throttle. With Miss Josephine Reynolds and Miss Louise Van Buren in the cab of engine No. 1, south-bound Santa Fe passenger train No. 5, the occupants were hauled at the rate of one mile a minute from Arkansas City to Oklahoma City. The run was made on a wager between Miss Reynolds and Rough Rider Frantz. The party were en route to the rough riders' reunion at Oklahoma City. Miss Reynolds offered to bet a box of candy she could pull the throttle with the same ease that Jim Hayes, the veteran engineer in charge of the train, could.

Judge T. B. Long a Suicide. Terre Haute, Ind., July 3.—Judge Thomas B. Long, well known to the Indiana bar, a thirty-third degree Mason and past grand master of the Indiana grand lodge, committed suicide here. He lay down on the floor of his library and fired a shot into his head, dying instantly. Despondency is given as the cause. Judge Long studied law under the late Col. R. W. Thompson.

ERAS CONTRASTED.

IMPRESSIVE ARRAY OF FACTS AND FIGURES.

Senator Gallinger Brings Into View the Tremendous Changes For the Better Wrought by a Return to the Policy of Protection.

The protective tariff is not going to be forgotten in this presidential campaign.

Senator Gallinger of New Hampshire presented a tremendous array of facts and figures in his elaborate speech in Washington the other day in support of his position that "the election of Grover Cleveland as president in November, 1892, and the enactment of the Wilson-Gorman tariff law in August, 1894, resulted in national adversity, while the election of William McKinley as president in November, 1896, and the enactment of the Dingley tariff law in July, 1897, resulted in national prosperity."

No Democratic effort has been made to answer this, because it is absolutely unanswerable. Even before the actual passage of the Gorman-Wilson law its baleful shadow had begun to fall across the country. Senator Gallinger showed that in 1893, the year of the second inauguration of President Cleveland, $34,518,061 was withdrawn from the savings banks of New York state in excess of the deposits. Business failures, which for the first three months of 1892 had been 3,207 in number, with total liabilities of $35,831,740, rose to 3,903 and $40,083,088 in the first three months of 1894 and to 4,512 and $62,518,826 in the first three months of 1896. From May 4 to Oct. 3, 1893, the American people drew $378,000,000 from the national banks. J. Edward Simmons, president of the Fourth National bank of New York, who as a fervent "tariff reformer" had said on Nov. 11, 1892, "The election of Grover Cleveland can only be regarded by all conservative business men as a fortunate thing for this country," said in another newspaper interview on May 20, 1896: "Panic? We have been so deep in a hole for three years that things cannot get any lower!"

In September, 1893, after Mr. Cleveland had been inaugurated, but before Gorman-Wilsonism had become law, The American Economist undertook an industrial census. It showed a decrease in labor since Nov. 5, 1892, of 61 1/2 per cent, a decrease in wages of 69 per cent and a decrease in business of 47.2 per cent. This was due to the antitarriff agitation and the certainty that protection was to be reduced by Democratic enactment. The silver propaganda had not then become an important factor in trade or politics. When the Gorman-Wilson law was finally passed, it began at once to enrich Europe and impoverish America. Our imports of certain competing foreign goods, which had been valued at $85,205,780 in ten months of 1893-4, rose to $109,206,731 in the ten months of 1894-5 under the reduced duties. Foreigners were supplying goods which had been made at home. American factories were closed. American wage earners were in idleness and want. On the evening of Jan. 12, 1894, after the Cleveland administration had been ten months in power, a great mass meeting in Cooper Union, New York, declared in formal resolution that "a large percentage of the working people in the various industries in this country are today out of employment" and "earnestly protested" against the disastrous purpose of the Democratic tariff policy.

Not were wage earners the only sufferers. The farmers, too, were hard hit by the "tariff reform" experiment. Because of reduced employment there was a reduced consumption of their products. Government statistics show that the farmers lost in the shrunken values of their crops during this Democratic tariff for revenue period "considerably more than $1,000,000,000 a year," or in all, "more than twice the amount of the national debt at the close of the war of the rebellion."

It was an ironical fact that this "tariff for revenue only" not only paralyzed trade and industry, but failed to produce revenue. It "impoverished the treasury." The Cleveland administration was compelled to borrow enormous sums of money in a time of profound peace to keep the treasury reserve intact and to meet current expenses of the government.

That is one side of the picture. Senator Gallinger, in his speech, has effectively shown the sudden and significant change which came over the country with the Republican victory of 1896. While congress, in extra session, was preparing to revise the tariff on protective lines a great tide of money began once more to flow into the banks. On Sept. 30, 1892, individual deposits in the banks of the country stood at a total of $1,765,422,083. In October, 1893, with "tariff reform" impending, they had fallen to $1,451,124,320. In December, 1897, these deposits had gone up again to $1,919,680,252, reflecting the increased confidence and improved earning capacity of the American people.

The year 1898 was the year of the war with Spain, but Dun's review, summing up its mercantile record, proclaimed it "a year beyond parallel," with "the biggest volume of business ever seen." The American Economist in 1899 undertook another industrial census. This showed, as compared with the Gorman-Wilson era of 1893, an increase of 89.50 per cent in number of hands employed and of 54.00 per cent in wages. The business of the New York clearing houses advanced from $2,580,348,832 in January, 1897, to $5,690,747,778 in January, 1899.

Senator Gallinger has done a great public service by preparing his masterly array of facts and figures, contrasting these two periods of tariff for revenue only and tariff for revenue and protection. The lesson which his speech enforces is of large present significance. Our Democratic friends the enemy are not saying much now about "tariff reform." They are not openly championing free trade. They do not dare to. Certain facts are too new and keen in the American memory. But it would be too much to hope that Mr. Bryan and his followers had really changed their minds on free trade any more than they have on free silver. They still held tenaciously to their old errors. Mr. Bryan himself, it may be well to remember, won his first recognition in congress as an extreme free trade advocate.

He and his people hate protection as bitterly as they hate the gold standard. A Democratic victory would mean the destruction of both of these Republican principles.—Boston Journal.

THEY LIKE THE CHANGE.

American People Seem to Enjoy Wearing American Made Clothes.

The London Financial News of May 5 notes with satisfaction the fact that "The United States is again becoming a better market for our worsted tissues. In April, 1898, she took $15,500 yards; in April, 1899, only 663,000 yards; but last month the quantity rose to 979,000 yards. This is an encouraging advance; but it compares sadly with 10,213,000 yards in April, 1897—that is, before the Dingley tariff."

It is easy to see why the United States has become a better consumer for many lines of foreign goods, for our people are in better shape than ever before to gratify their taste for luxuries, and there are now more men than ever before who can afford to wear high priced foreign fabrics. At the same time there are more men, and well dressed men, too, than ever before who are wearing American made clothes. So there is not much ground for grumbling at the 1,000,000 yards of British worsteds which were sold to the United States in the month of April, especially when we remember that in April, 1897, three months prior to the enactment of the Dingley tariff, more than ten times that quantity of British worsteds came to this country under the free trade tariff of 1894-7.

Those were halcyon years for foreign cloth makers and gloomy years for American cloth makers. Now the situation is reversed alike as to fabrics and other competitive foreign products, and the American people seem to enjoy the change.

FRENCH OFFICIAL IS KILLED

Slain at Town Hall at City of Tien-Tsin.

WAS SECRETARY OF CONSULATE

The Situation at Peking Is Desperate. According to London Dispatches—Northern China Seemingly Breaking Away from the Empire.

Paris, July 3.—In the chamber of deputies M. Delcasse, the minister of foreign affairs, announced that French troops from Tonquin were arriving on the scene of the fighting in China, and the French admiral would soon have 3,000 men, while, with the arrival of the other troops on their way, France within a month will have a force proportionate to her position in China. The French consul at Tien-Tsin telegraphs under date of June 26 as follows:

"Several shells were fired into the town yesterday evening, one falling on the French consulate and seriously damaging the building, without injuring the residents.

"The secretary of the consulate, who was acting as road surveyor for the town, and two French sailors were killed at the town hall."

London, July 3.—The allies are not advancing to the relief of Peking. This announcement to the house of commons by William St. John Brodrick, under secretary of state for foreign affairs, was received with exclamations of astonishment and dismay. Sir Ellis Ashmead Bartlett inquired if any information had been received from the legations at Peking or as to the composition and command of the relieving force and its present position. Mr. Brodrick read the dispatch received and said the total allied force available is now about 12,000, as troops have been rapidly arriving, adding: "We do not yet know what arrangements have been made locally regarding the command of an expedition, but it has not yet been thought possible to attempt a further advance. The consuls have been in communication with the viceroys in the Yang Tse region and they are quite well aware that support will be given them by her majesty's government in preserving order.

Prepare for the Worst.

"It is obviously impossible that the representatives of the powers at Peking should be consulted, as no communications are passing with them. The situation is desperate. Hasten."

These words from the message of Von Bergen, a member of the German legation at Peking, countersigned by Sir Robert Hart, inspector general of customs, and dated nine days ago, are the end of all private comment. They are preparing for news of a frightful tragedy. Nine days ago the ammunition of the little garrison defending the foreigners was running low and their food was nearly exhausted, while around them was a horde of Kan Su braves having at their service Krupp guns and repeating rifles. Peking was in the hands of the revolutionaries.

Powers Look to Japan.

St. Petersburg has been informed, over the Siberian wires, that the destruction of the Russian railways in Manchuria continues, and it seems not improbable that Russia will be fully occupied for a time in suppressing the insurrection among its subject Chinese and may be unable to send more troops immediately to Taku.

The powers look more and more to Japan to supply the force necessary at once to grapple with the formidable rebellion. The disturbances in the far east have caused several Chinese banks to suspend payment, the Express says, and European firms are withholding advances. The secretary of the Bank of England views the situation with concern. He says the stoppage of payment by Chinese banks would be reactionary and far-reaching in its consequences. A war hindering the import and stimulating the export trade will increase the demand for silver.

Record Breaking of Coal Output.

The coal output in 1899 broke all previous records. According to Edward W. Parker, statistician of the United States Geological Survey, 258,539,650 short tons were produced, an increase of 34,000,000 short tons over any previous year.

DO YOU KNOW THAT POOR PRINTING WILL do much toward injuring a man's business. A poorly displayed piece of dirty ink spattered onto a piece of paper and called can only call forth ridicule and destroy the value of the circular, notehead, or whatever it may be. GOOD PRINTING costs but little more than poor printing. The employs the best printers, new presses and the latest type faces. We make it a point never to let a poor piece of printing leave the office. When you get work done here you can be sure that IT IS RIGHT.
